SCT International, LLC Announces Acquisition of Intellectual Property Rights

ATLANTA, GA- March 20, 2009- SCT International, LLC (“SCT”), a holding company focused on security printing, brand protection and anti-counterfeiting, announced today that Affyrmx, LLC, a wholly owned subsidiary of SCT, acquired all of the intellectual property rights, including certain patents and technology, of Intellectual Product Protection, LLC. Financial terms of the transaction were not disclosed. This transaction did not include the business of Intellectual Product Protection LTD, based in Bangkok, Thailand which continues to operate as an independent company.

Anthony J. Butte, Chairman of SCT, commented, “The acquisition of the intellectual property rights and technologies from Intellectual Product Protection advances our progress towards meeting the strategic goal of identifying and completing synergistic acquisitions that add to our proprietary technology portfolio. Robert W. Spiller, President and Chief Executive Officer of SCT, added, “The launch of these new technologies continues our push to become a customer-driven full service provider of a wide range of products and services that meet the security needs of our customers.”

Timothy P. Merchant, President of Intellectual Product Protection LTD, noted, “The sale of intellectual property rights to technologies developed by our company will be beneficial not only in bringing new advanced security products to the market, but will also serve to allow our company to continue to focus in its core areas of strength which is consulting to Governments and Fortune 500 Companies.”
