JOIN FORCES TO PROTECT CUSTOMERS ASSETS

HARRISON, OH (January 25, 2010) – Sekuworks, LLC – a leading brand protection and security company – has entered into a partnership agreement with Unisource Worldwide, Inc. to provide comprehensive brand protection packaging products, service and support to meet the needs of Unisource’s customers.

The two companies will work together to provide Unisource customers with comprehensive packaging solutions that address brand protection, package design, engineering, supply chain support and overall unit cost concerns. The partnership will provide a one-stop-shop to manage and secure a brand’s packaging, the area most often targeted by counterfeiters.

“Packaging is the concentration point of most counterfeiters because it can be replicated throughout the world,” said Robert Sherwood, vice president of security programs management for Sekuworks. “Since most packages are not opened at point of sale for product inspection, it is often difficult to stop counterfeiters,” he said.

“Sekuworks’ Intaglio Markers can be used to authenticate products at point of sale, and are a critical security tool,” said Sherwood. “In addition, both package and product can be marked to defend against Gray Market, Diversion and Warranty Fraud. This raises the bar and makes it hard to breach our security enforcement, causing would-be counterfeiters to move to other, unprotected targets,” he said.

Intaglio printing technology is policed, controlled and limited to assure security. It is used worldwide by governments to print currencies and value documents due to its high level of security.
